The Promise

Within NFA Scotland we currently have a Promise working group whose purpose is to integrate The Promise and The Pinky Promise into everything we do, share, and communicate with our families and young people. Our aim is to shift policy, practice, and culture within NFA Scotland so that we can #KeepThePromise made to care experienced infants, children, young people, adults, and their families – that every child grows up loved, safe and respected, able to realise their full potential.

Voice: Children must be listened to and meaningfully and appropriately involved in decision-making about their care, with all those involved properly listening and responding to what children want and need. There must be a compassionate, caring, decision-making culture focused on children and those they trust.

Family: Where children are safe in their families and feel loved they must stay – and families must be given support together to nurture that love and overcome the difficulties which get in the way.

Care: Where living with their family is not possible, children must stay with their brothers and sisters where safe to do so and belong to a loving home, staying there for as long as needed.

People: The children that Scotland cares for must be actively supported to develop relationships with people in the workforce and wider community, who in turn must be supported to listen and be compassionate in their decision-making and care.

Scaffolding: Children, families and the workforce must be supported by a system that is there when it is needed. The scaffolding of help, support and accountability must be ready and responsive when it is required

Introduction

This Statement of Purpose for

National Fostering Agency Scotland

NFA (Scotland) is an Independent fostering agency which is Registered as an Adult Service Provider, for the purposes of providing continuing care.

'Continuing Care' is the legal term established by Part 11 of the 2014 Act. Continuing Care is defined as meaning the same accommodation and other assistance as was being provided for the eligible person by the local authority, immediately before the person ceased to be looked after. It is important to remember that it is not a new arrangement; it is the right for the young person to 'stay put' in the same arrangement.

NFAS Young Adult Arrangement Service have developed and implemented policies and Procedures to safeguard and support young adults in our care and the service is closely linked with our Foster Care Service.

The service is overseen by the same personnel: Registered Manager, Team Managers, Advanced Practitioners, Administration workers, Panel members, Agency Decision Maker, Senior Managers, Chief Executive Officer, Board of Directors.

Caregivers have access to support groups and training relevant to their role.

The Adult Placement Service is committed to providing a quality family experience, enabling young adults who are looked after and accommodated with our foster carers to transition into a continuing care arrangement and remain with those families beyond the age of 18 years where this is considered necessary and appropriate.

The Conditions of Registration are:

- 1 No more than 3 adults shall be placed at any one time within the household of any adult arrangement carer.
2. NFAS approval process of foster carers as continuing care provider for the purposes of continuing care must include assessment, and approval as a foster carer and a continuing care provider.

The Statement of Purpose (SoP) for NFA (Scotland) Limited has been developed in accordance with appropriate legislations: National Care Standards Foster Care and Family Arrangement 2005, Children (Scotland) Act 1995, the Regulation of Care Act 2001, Looked after Children (Scotland) Regulations 2009 and Children and Young People (Scotland) Act 2014 and the new health and Social Care Standards 2018. The SoP outlines the way NFAS operates as a Registered Young Adult Arrangement Service. This SoP is made available to employees, carers, local authorities and can be accessed by birth families via the NFA website.

The SoP is reviewed and agreed as required or annually by the Registered Manager and the Management Team.

Consultation and Support for Children and Young People

Children & Young People's Rights

As a partner agency of the National Fostering Group, National Fostering Agency Scotland supports UNICEF's mission statement to advocate for the protection of children's rights, to help meet their basic needs and expand their opportunities to reach their full potential. In doing so, the agency, its staff and foster carers will uphold the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC).

Participation and Consultation

National Fostering Agency Scotland is committed to the inclusion of all stakeholders in the review and development of its services. The views, wishes and feelings of children and young people are vital to ensuring the services meet their needs and remain relevant in a changing environment. Consultation takes various forms either through questionnaires, online surveys, consultation events, activities and feedback forms for carer annual reviews and LAC reviews. All children and young people receive a copy of their own magazine 'Kidslines' or 'Teenlines' filled with interesting news and articles from, and relevant to, children and young people.

Support for Young adults in our Care

The young adults placed with National Fostering Agency Scotland come from a wide range of backgrounds and experiences and it is imperative that they receive the highest standards of care to enable them to aspire and achieve in our care.

To this end, National Fostering Agency Scotland has established a clear online manual of policies and procedures that outlines the standards expected from all continuing carer providers and staff.

In addition, when the Local Authority and agency have agreed that an identified foster carer can support the development towards interdependence for the young adult.; a placement contract is made agreeing the duration and objectives of the placement.

Young adults are provided information and support in accessing support through advocacy, education/career development, accessing funding and bespoke support for their needs are clearly determined in their Pathway Plans.

Physical Environment

National Fostering Agency Scotland pride themselves on the standard of their homes providing safe, stimulating, caring environments, where there is a focus on health, education, protection, continuity, diet and stimulation.

Young adults are supported to develop life skills towards budgeting and managing their affairs through daily tasks.

These policies are imperative to ensure that behaviours are responded to in a consistent and fair manner. Any form of corporal punishment is forbidden. Each young adult and they are supported maintain their health checks etc

Healthy Care

In partnership with the foster carer, Social Worker and Health Authority, establish the individual health needs of each child in our care. Wherever possible fostered children will continue using their own health resources, if this is not possible children will be:

- Ensure that young adults attend routine and required health appointments and annual health assessments, dental and optician appointments
- Support young adults to maintain health appointments

- Take the time to listen to young people giving them an outlet to share emotions, thoughts and feelings to promote positive emotional wellbeing.
- Support ongoing development with emotional and practical support

Therapeutic Support Services

We believe that children and young people have a right to access therapeutic provision from Local Health Authorities. We have developed good working relationships with health colleagues in each local area and will access local provision wherever possible. If children cannot access local provision due to the timescales involved, or the complexity of the situation; the agency can commission the services of suitably qualified, experienced and accredited professionals to undertake the work e.g. play therapists, child psychologists, art therapists.

Education

National Fostering Agency Scotland believe that young people have the fundamental right to experience an appropriate education which enables them to meet their potential.

Consultation and Support for Children and Young People

Contact with Friends and Relatives

National Fostering Agency Scotland ensures that each young adult in our care is encouraged to maintain contact with those most important to them. We encourage and support dual family membership for young adults with their birth families.

Unauthorised Absence and Missing

All foster carers have access to the agency policy on children who go missing. If there are issues of risk, vulnerability or young adult sexual exploitation, then a strategy will be discussed and agreed with the Child's Social Worker, young person and foster carer. This is to ensure appropriate safeguards and supervision are in place, to further improve risk awareness and facilitate risk reduction. The agency will request the Local Authority conducts Return Home Interviews following all missing episodes.

Safeguarding Procedures

has safeguarding procedures in place which are in line with Working Together to Safeguard Children to safeguard and protect the welfare of all children. All staff and foster carers are required to fully adhere to these procedures. Where there is a need to review any safeguarding practices to ensure safe care is provided, this will be done in consultation with the Children's Social Worker, foster parent, and fostered child (where possible).

Consultation and Support for Children and Young People

Outcomes Support – details of additional support offered to children, young people and foster families

The statistics available tell us that care-experienced children and young people are less likely to achieve well in their studies, more likely to suffer from mental health issues, more likely to enter the criminal justice system or, as an adult, other social care systems. At the National Fostering Group, we are working hard to change this bleak picture on an individual basis for children and young people in our foster homes, and have dedicated support to help boost and improve outcomes. The additional resources can be accessed at any point, and the support offered aligns with our pledge to children and young people in one of our fostering families.

Adventures Support

The National Fostering Group can support young people to:

- Undertake an award with the Duke of Edinburgh's Award at the three levels of Bronze, Silver or Gold
- Join an expedition adventure with British Exploring Society

These opportunities allow young people and adults to acquire essential personal and social skills. It connects them to their communities and the great outdoors in a positive manner. These activities can help to support and boost other outcomes for young people.

Careers and Employability Support

This service can provide high-level support to social workers or foster families trying to find appropriate further opportunities for our young people. The service can also provide 1:1 Careers Advice and Guidance where necessary.

This is particularly important if:

- the young person is not currently in an education provision (NEET - Not in Education, Employment or Training) or between education provisions
- the young person's current educational setting has not provided guidance at a suitable or appropriate level
- if opportunities for Careers Guidance were missed by the young person/adult

Fostering Support Worker

Fostering Support Workers (FSW) provide specific support services to both foster carers and children and young people, and have experience of working with children in a variety of settings. Input is time-limited and solution focussed to enable those supported to achieve personal growth and development. Support services can include occasional transporting, supervising contact and undertaking direct work with children and young people. Direct work covers areas such as the development of independence skills, educational support and preparing for employment and further education, self-protection and risk reduction skills, improving self-confidence and self-esteem. This list is not exhaustive and all packages of work are bespoke to the individual needs of the child or young person, enabling them to aspire and achieve their best potential. Support Workers also run groups and activities for both looked after children and children who foster which provides them with opportunities to socialise, share experiences and derive support from their own peer groups.

The Office manager has responsibility for maintaining the relevant checks for foster carers, adult household members and their support network e.g. DBS, Medicals, LA checks. They also have responsibility for the collation and distribution of all Annual Review and Fostering Panel paperwork, room bookings, food and refreshment.

Fostering Clinical Services

Clinicians working in Fostering Services are qualified Psychologists and Psychotherapists with experience of working with families and with children with histories of trauma including neglect, violence, and abuse. They bring to the roles an extensive knowledge and experience of child development, trauma, and interpersonal dynamics within families, as well as understanding of the psychology of individuals. The focus of much of the work for clinicians in fostering is on supporting Carers to use therapeutic approaches, including managing their own responses to difficult situations they are in; this is to support the child to feel safe, to develop and to flourish.

To achieve this, Clinicians offer consultations with Supervising Social Workers to develop understanding of families and children and develop next steps, and consultations with families. Direct work with children can also be provided where this is needed. Training is offered to both carers and to Supervising Social Workers to support their knowledge and practice in working with families. In addition, support groups with carers are offered, as well as reflective practice sessions with Supervising Social Workers. These are examples of what can be offered; at other times, a more extensive assessment may be needed for the child. What is provided will be driven by developing an understanding of what the child and the carers need, and this will be approached by working collaboratively with both Carers, Supervising Social workers and other professionals involved with the family to offer a full multi-disciplinary approach.

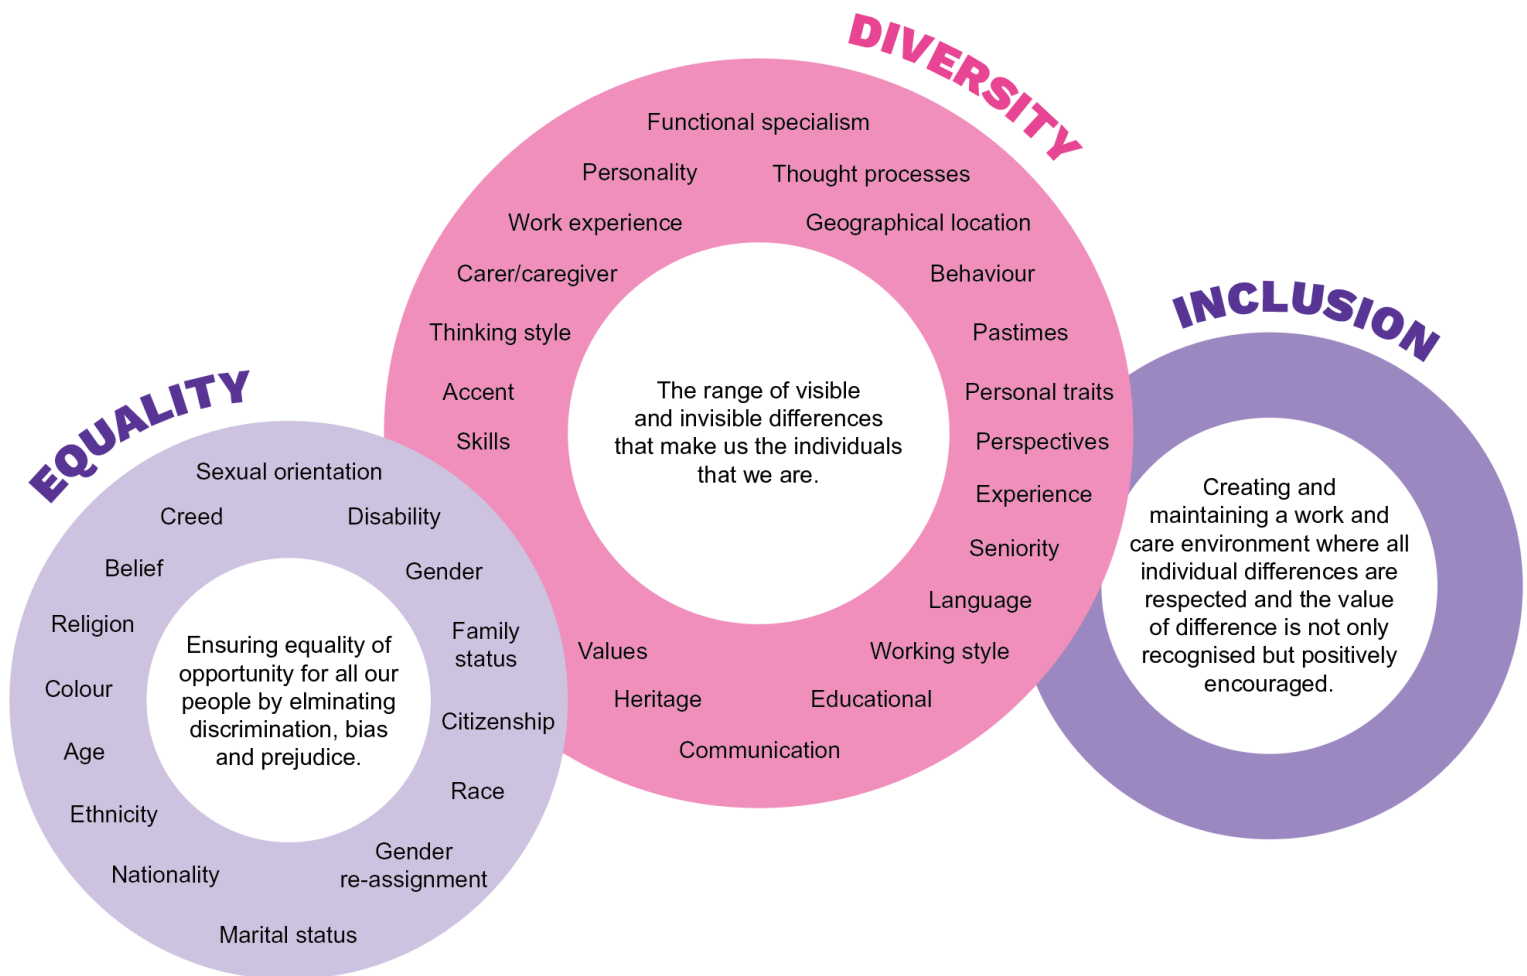

Commitment to Equality and Diversity

At National Fostering Agency Scotland we recognise the diverse society and communities in which we all live and work. We embrace and celebrate diversity, respect difference and promote equality of opportunity. We aim to recruit staff and carers from all backgrounds to reflect the demographics of the regions in which we operate, and to meet the diverse needs of the fostered children we care for.

We are aware that discrimination, prejudice, unfairness and oppression can exist in every aspect of daily living, including education, employment, health and social care.

We are committed to enabling all fostered children, foster parents and their children, and employees to reach their full potential as individuals, unimpeded by discrimination, unfairness or oppressive behaviour within the organisation.

At National Fostering Agency Scotland we want all fostered children in our care, our foster carers and employees to feel valued and treated equally and fairly. Our goal is to ensure our values are embedded in our day to day working practices with all our stakeholders and service user groups.

Annual Reviews

The National Fostering Agency (Scotland) reviews the approval of Foster Carers and Continuing Care providers on an annual basis. If one aspect requires an early review and panel presentation then both must be reviewed and presented to panel.

There are significant changes in circumstances that could trigger an early Review.

For example:

- A significant change in health
- A change to household membership
- A serious Complaint or Child/Adult Protection investigation
- A recent criminal conviction
- A Request to change Approval
- The breakdown of a placement or ending of a Continuing Care arrangement.

Complaints Procedure

The National Fostering Agency (Scotland) Complaints Procedure remains the same for each Young Adult Placement Provider, where each complaint will be dealt with equitably and speedily. The agency has a whistleblowing policy to encourage employees/volunteers to feel confident in raising concerns. All concerns will be taken seriously and fully investigated.

Complaints by Foster Carers

The National Fostering Agency (Scotland) recommends that any complaint made by a Foster Carer should first be discussed with their Supervising Social Worker. If the complaint is not resolved at this stage then a meeting will be arranged between the Foster Carer and the relevant Manager to resolve any concerns. If the Foster Carer is still not satisfied, they will be asked to put their complaint in writing to the Registered Manager for investigation. The Director will acknowledge this complaint in writing within seven days and the investigation will be completed within 21 days (or as long as it is necessary to reach a satisfactory outcome).

Complaints by Children, Parents or Social Workers

The Social Worker, Supervising Social Worker and Foster Carer will be informed immediately of any complaint made by a Young Person or a Parent if appropriate. In the first instant, the complainant is encouraged to resolve the matter directly with the Foster Carer. The Foster Carer's Supervising Social Worker and the Young Person's Social Worker can provide support in this task.

If the complainant is still not satisfied, they will be asked to put their complaint in writing to The National Fostering Agency (Scotland) Director for investigation. NFA will acknowledge this complaint in writing within seven days and the investigation will be completed within 21 days. (or as long as it necessary to reach a satisfactory outcome).

Continuing Care Arrangement

As part of our service NFAS believe that Continuing Care is an opportunity to plan in a gradual way, increasing independence at a rate and stage that suits the evolving capacity of the young person. The aim of the provision is to ensure that where it does not significantly adversely affect their welfare then all eligible looked after young people are encouraged, enabled, and empowered to stay in an existing care placement until they are able to demonstrate their readiness and willingness to move on to interdependent living. Interdependence more accurately reflects the day to day reality of an extended range of healthy inter-personal relationships, social supports and networks.

We will strive to support young people in making a successful transition to adulthood.

“We are part of National Fostering Group. By supporting foster parents to create safe, secure, nurturing environments, we help vulnerable children and young people to thrive and settle into education, giving them the great start in life they deserve.”
